

Exhibit A

Texas Hold Em Cash Games

Object of the game:

Players will compete to accumulate chips from one another. Each chip will represent a cash value of $1, $2, $5, $25, and $100.

Rules of the game:

Buy-in ranges are as follows:

Blinds	Min/Max Buy-In
$1/$2	$60-$300
$2-$5	$200-$500
$5-$10	$500-$1000

Players are free to cash out their chips at their convenience. If cashing out, all chips must be cashed out together. If a person cashes out, they must either wait a half hour before buying back into the table, or buy back in for the full amount they cashed out.

Players can choose and move between seats as they open. If there are no available seats, a waiting list will be established by the floor manager. When a seat becomes available, any player at the table may move to that seat, while the player on the waiting list fills the available seat.

Players at other tables may request a table transfer. When a seat becomes available, players who are on the transfer list will get priority in changing tables before a person on the waiting list is seated.

Established tables can switch games or stakes, if there is unanimous agreement amongst players at the table.

Equipment to be used:

Each dealer will be issued a cash chip rack, a deck case consisting of two different colored decks of cards, a cut card and a button.

Hold 'Em Method of play

The two players to the left of the dealer put out blind bets. The player directly to the dealer's left puts out the small blind while the player two to the dealer's left puts out the big blind.

Every player is dealt two cards, face down. These are called hole or pocket cards.

The first action falls on the player to the left of the big blind, who can either call the bet, raise it, or fold. Action continues around the table, clockwise.

After all action for the round has concluded, three cards are dealt face up in the center of the table, which is referred to as the board. The first three cards in Hold'em are called the flop. These cards are community cards meaning everyone can use them in combination with their own hole cards to make the best hand.

From the flop on, betting begins with the player to the dealer's left, who can check or bet.

A fourth card is dealt face up onto the board. This is called fourth street or the turn card.

Another round of betting.

The final card is dealt face up. This card is also called fifth street or the river.

A final round of betting occurs. The remaining players show their cards and the person who can make the best five card hand by combining their pocket cards with the cards on the board wins.

Types of Wagers for the game/Wager amount for the game:

Blind structures can be $1-$2, $2-$5, $5-$10. The minimum bet at the table will be the amount of the big blind.

Players can wager up to whatever they have in front of them in chips whenever it is their action in the hand.

No forced bet can be above $10.

Payout and Payout odds:

Players are free to cash out at their convenience.

House Rules Applicable to All Games:

No swearing at or berating other people at the table.

Protect your hand at all times.

English only while in a hand, even if you're speaking to someone off the table.

Verbal declarations made in turn are binding. Verbal declarations made out of turn are binding if action doesn't change before the players turn to act.
